i missed the part where thats my problem: Teenage Shooters Travis Barrett, 2008-06 Teenage Shooters is about Freddy Louche's world. Who is Freddy Louche? If you asked him he would tell you that he is an all-American teenage loser who lives in a neighborhood populated by gangbangers and bullies. He hates school because the classes are boring and many of the students are intimidators. But there are three things Freddy loves: his skateboard, his video games, and his father. His skateboard is a Serial Killer which sports an image of Charles Manson. In a strange way Freddy never feels alone when he is riding Manson, who is also his protector, at least until that fateful night when Freddy's life begins to rapidly unravel. Resident Evil is Freddy's favorite video games because in the world of survival horror he can defend himself against the zombies and other monsters that remind him of the cretin bullies who hang out in the corridors of his school and the thugs that roam the streets of his city, a city that is in many ways like Raccoon City, which was also an all-American city until the walking dead and other beasts took control of its streets. Freddy's father is the one adult Freddy can always depend upon. Unfortunately, Mr. Louche, like the school authorities and the police, cannot protect his son from the thugs and bullies who constantly harass him. Thus, a time finally comes when Freddy and his loser friends must take on their tormentors.

People who are hundreds if not thousands of years old and living in our world today. Their commentaries come from a discussion board I have been using for a couple of years to market my earlier book: Physical Immortality: A History and How to Guide There are over twelve distinct immortal personalities who posted on this board and they all have different perspectives on their lives as immortals. One of the main characters on the site said this about the immortals: "I have met over 170 other immortals dating from 20,000 years old to 110 years old, from around Earth. Gods are in another league. I have met 15 Gods/Goddesses most are Norse/Celtic Gods." "There is at least 2000 of us out of your 7 billion humans doing the exact same as me i.e. jobs/names some still hide in mountains and forests." Do I believe all of this? I do have some skepticism, but even if it's not true it is a great story. If true—it is one of the greatest revelations of all time i missed the part where that's my problem: A Day at the Theme Park - Part 1: Fall Semester Ryan Wagner, 2025-09-07 "I'm here, I'm queer, and I'm full of fear." The glass is always half full to 18-year-old Trevor Huffman, but it's half full of pee. Thanks to COVID, the 45th President, family trauma, and his first heartbreak, he's no stranger to the downs of life. That's not to say that his life doesn't have its ups too, but they're a little harder to appreciate when you're depressed, anxious, and constantly overthinking things. And if that's not enough to keep Trevor worried, he just moved into his dorm room at New Halle University to start his freshman year at college, and he's all on his own now. Gulp. What are people going to think of him? What if he doesn't fit in? What if he doesn't make any friends? Armed with his journal, his own insecurities, and a fierce love of music, he's determined to make the most of his time at school. Anything can happen at college, and as scary as that is to Trevor, he doesn't want to let it scare him into staying shut in his room. The often-untold sequel to the high school coming-of-age story and in the same vein as The Perks of Being a Wallflower and The Catcher in the Rye, A Day at the Theme Park is an unapologetically progressive story about discovery, friendship, finding your place, and dining hall food that sends you running for the bathroom.
